

MARCH 2006

GOODHOUSEKEEPING.COM

good housekeeping

The Weekend Diet

Be thinner by Monday

DOCTOR-TESTED HOME REMEDIES

Heloise's Best-Ever Cleaning Tips!

The Perfect Haircut For You, p.174

NOT IN THE MOOD? Help for the Bedroom Blues

FAST FAMILY DINNERS ALL HEALTHY!

Tax Tricks Get a bigger refund

Jennifer Aniston Inside Her New Life

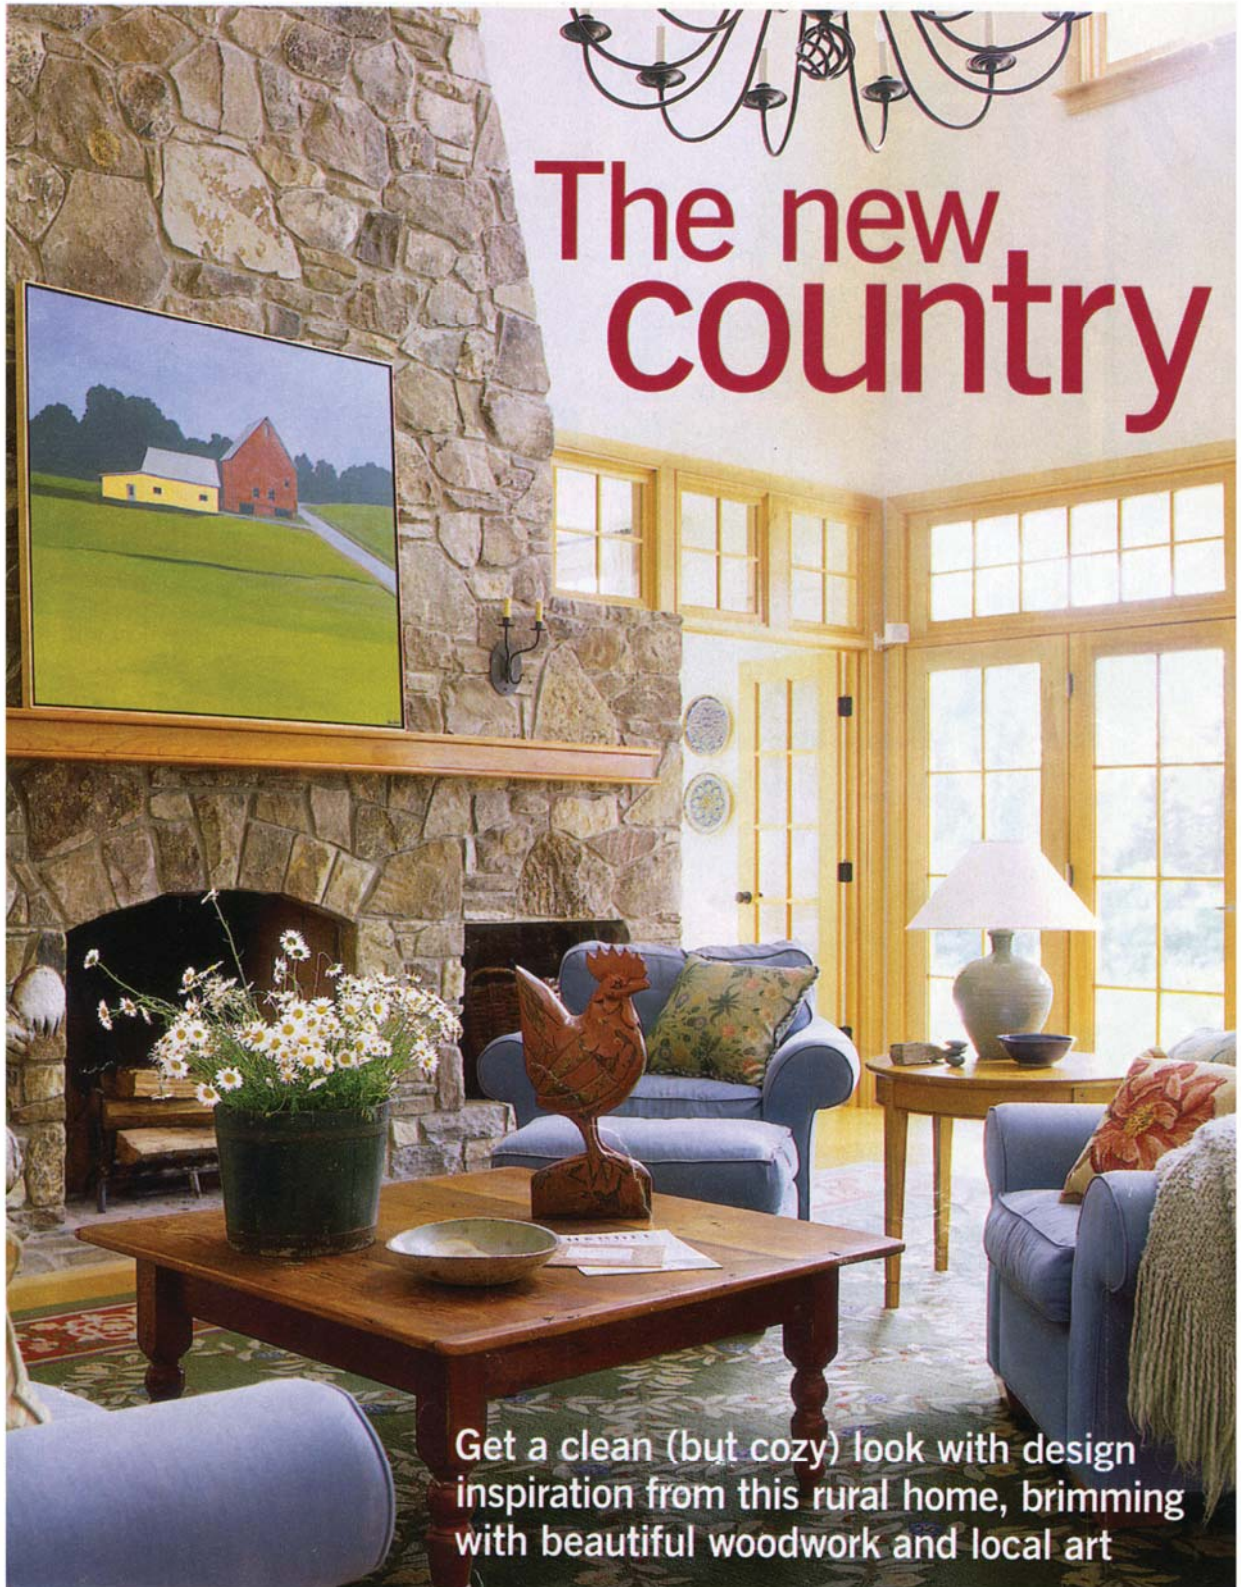

Her big risk, her baby plans, and why she still believes in happily ever after

$2.50 U.S. $3.50 CAN./FOR.

Goodhouse

The new country

PHOTOGRAPHS BY PAUL WHICHELOE. PRODUCED BY KARIN LIDBECK-BRENT.

Get a clean (but cozy) look with design inspiration from this rural home, brimming with beautiful woodwork and local art

Natural materials like wood and stone abound, giving the rooms an organic sensibility

▲ PEP UP THE STEPS
The quaint cottage look is established right away at the entry, with wide stone stairs leading to a white painted maple door with beadboard details. The slatted motif extends to the overhang's ceiling as well. Flowers in pots and boxes add color and cheer.

◀ GOOD DAY SUNSHINE
This light-filled sunroom was designed around the elegant harpsichord. Sheer panels soften the windows' impact without blocking the sun's rays. The homeowners wanted this room to feel comfy, so they chose casual wicker chairs with soft white cushions. ▶

INTO THE WOODS ▲
Art imitates life in this kitchen, where the interior palette—the sage green and the maple tones—mimics the nature beyond the French doors. Granite countertops further the outdoorsy feel.

LIGHT LUNCH ►
The surrounding windows in the dining room were custom-made: Single panes below allow an unfettered view, while divided panes above add design dimension. The woven floral rug warms up this largely neutral room. ■